

Heart Transplantation in the current COVID-era

New rules, donor pool, activity and perspectives

Friday 17th July 2020 at 15:00 Berlin time

Heart Transplantation in the current COVID-era

Program Director
Charles Yankah
Berlin

Program Facilitator
José L. Pomar
Barcelona

Keynote Speakers

Dirk Westermann, Eppendorf-Hamburg, Germany

Beatriz Dominguez, ONT Director, Madrid, Spain

Marta Farrero, ISHLT & Heart Failure Clinic

M. Angeles Castel, Cardiovascular Clinic Institute, Barcelona

Davide Pacini, Santa Orsola, University of Bologna, Italy

Sofia Martin, Santa Orsola, University of Bologna, Italy

Kadir Caliskan, Erasmus MC, Rotterdam, The Netherlands

Juan P. Umaña, Fundación Cardioinfantil, Bogotá, Colombia

Raghav A. Murthy, Mount Sinai Children's, New York, USA

Bart Bijnsens, ICREA-Idibaps, Spain

December 1967
CapeTown
Groote Schuur Hospital
Christian Barnard

Norman Shumway, seated right center, On Jan. 6, 1968, performed the first U.S. adult heart transplant. Edward Stinson, seated across from him, and Nurse Bernadine Hartman assisted in the surgery. (Photo: Stanford Medical History Center)

Dirk Westermann, MD, PhD

Interventional Cardiology Department
University Heart and Vascular Unit
Hamburg-Eppendorf Medical Centre
Germany

Late presentation of Corona-Virus Replication in the Myocardium: A Word of Caution.

Beatriz Dominguez-Gil, MD

Director

Organización Nacional de Trasplantes

Spanish National Transplants Organization

Scaling up donation and transplantation programs in Spain

Marta Farrero, MD, PhD

Heart Failure & Transplant Specialist

International Society for Heart & Lung Transplantation

New recommendations of ISHLT in the current context

Maria Angeles Castel, MD, PhD

Heart Failure & Cardiac Transplant Specialist
The Cardiovascular Institute. Hospital Clinic
Barcelona

A couple of interesting experiences from our Unit

Davide Pacini, MD, PhD

Director. Cardiac Surgery.

Sta Orsola Malpighi Hospital, Univ of Bologna
Italy

Impact of Covid Pandemic on Heart Transplantation in Italy.
A National overview.

Sofia Martin, MD, PhD

Cardiac Surgery Department. Heart Transplant Unit
Sta Orsola Malpighi Hospital. University of Bologna
Italy

The Bologna single centre experience on Heart Transplant around Covid 19 Pandemic

Kadir Caliskan, MD, PhD

Cardiologist. Heart Transplant coordination for Holland
Erasmus Medical Center. University of Rotterdam
The Netherlands

" Clinical Presentation and Management of COVID-19 Infections in Heart Transplant Recipients"

Juan Pablo Umaña, MD, PhD

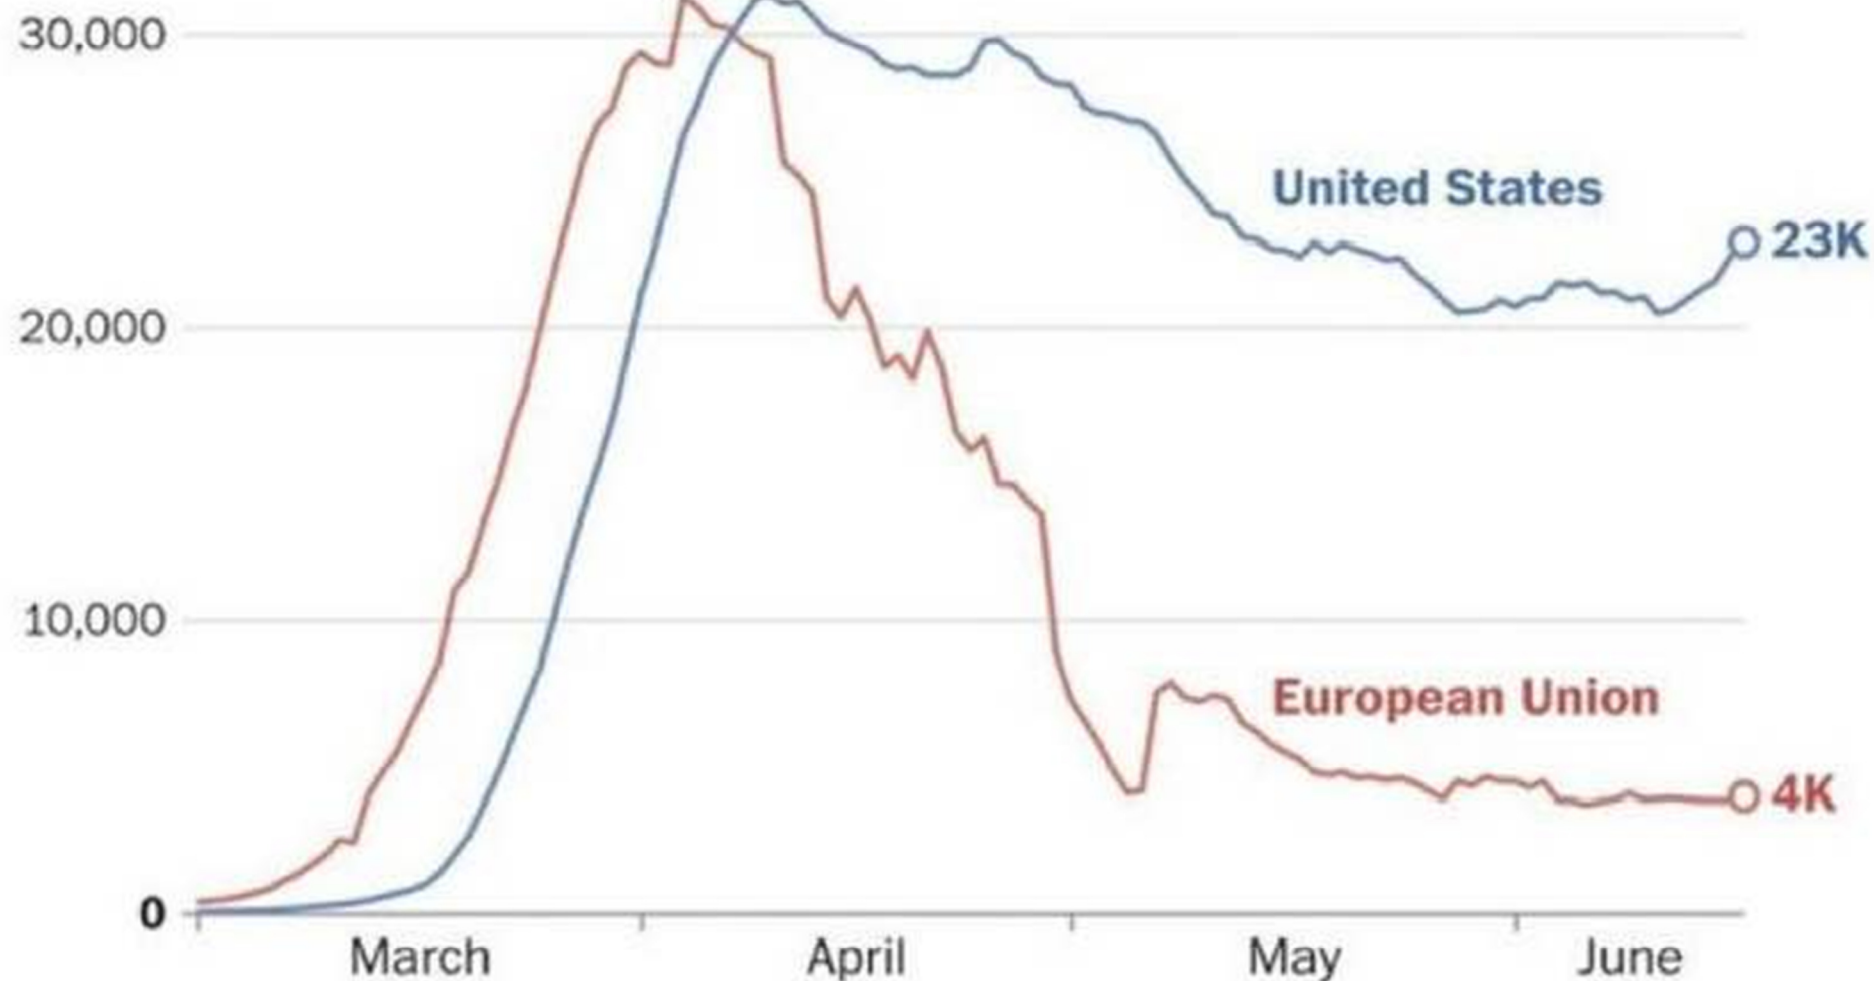

Cardiovascular Surgeon. Director

Heart Transplant Specialist

Fundación Cardioinfantil. Bogotá, Colombia

What was, and is today, the picture in Latin-America?

Seven-day rolling average of new coronavirus cases, March 1 to June 17

Source: Johns Hopkins University

HARRY STEVENS/THE WASHINGTON POST

Raghav A. Murthy, MD

Ass Professor Paediatric CT & Transplant Surgery
Mount Sinai Children's hospital, New York
USA

Perspectives from the US, and NY in particular

Bart Bijnens, PhD, MSc eng

ICREA Research Professor at IDIBAPS,
Translational Cardiovascular Computing Director
Barcelona, Spain

Which are the expectations, if any, for the coming six months period? The view from an expert on Artificial Intelligence

